YOU CAN BE PART OF HISTORY!

The Annual Kiwanis Club Pancake Fest will be held on February 8. This year is special because it will be the 50th anniversary and last of this function.

Volunteers are needed to assist with the Lakeland Police Department booths and activities, including Lakeland Citizens Police Academy Association. Come down to Marchant Stadium and be a part of this special event.

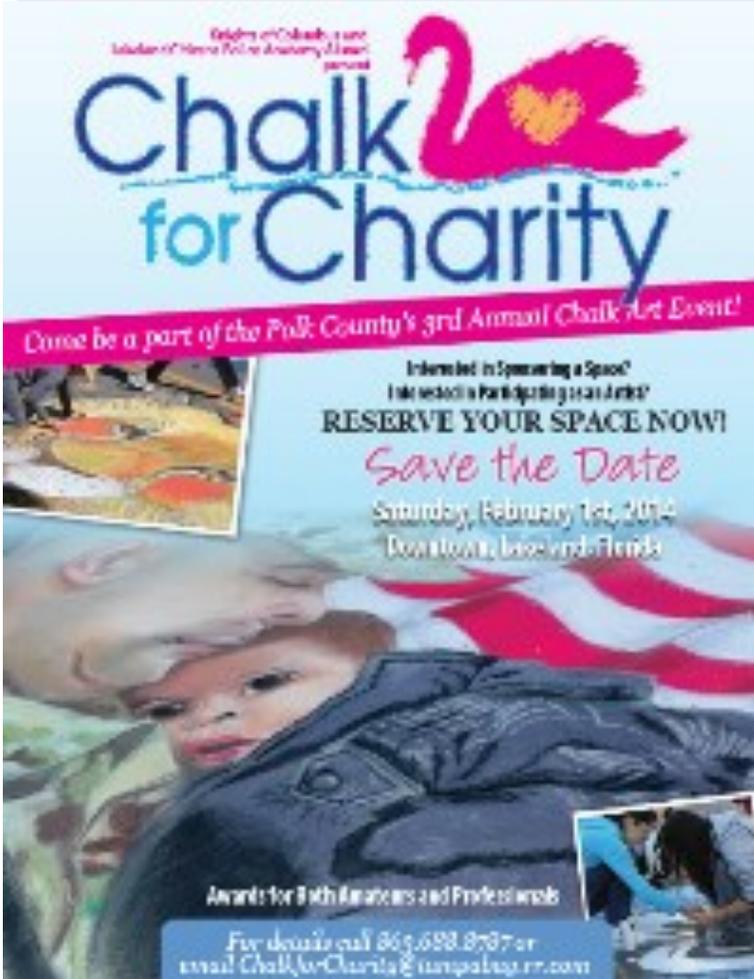

LAKELAND FIRST FRIDAY

This event which stretches through four or more streets in downtown Lakeland, is an opportunity for the LCPAAA to further its visibility and to raise funds for our activities. This Friday, February 7, will be the last time we will be selling K-9 Calendars. Come down and help. LCPAAA has its own booth to be manned and to answer resident's questions.

At our meetings (December, January excluded) we have the opportunity to hear and learn from an expert in some area of public safety, police procedures, scam control. Dick Fearnow is doing an excellent job of putting the program together. Be sure to come to the meeting of February 11 so you won't miss some information about the Lakeland Police Department

LCPAAA has a vested interest in Chalk for Charity. It helps us earn money for the many good causes we support. The event is on February 1. If you can volunteer, there are many areas and times you are needed. Please read carefully the e-mail from Mike, open the excel attachment and find a place where you can help.

LAKELAND | Police Chief Lisa Womack resigned Friday, January 25, two days after a no-confidence vote by Lakeland Police Department employees.

In a message to City Manager Doug Thomas, the chief wrote she was quitting, effective May 1, because it was the best thing for her and her family.

Her resignation comes after a year in which the department faced the most widespread scandal in its history — a sweeping sexual-misconduct investigation — criminal cases fouled by search and reporting procedures, the arrest of an officer on charges he sexually abused and stalked a woman while on duty, and a grand jury investigation into problems with Womack and the department's handling of public records. In all, 27 LPD employees have been disciplined, including about a dozen officers who resigned in lieu of termination and three who were fired.

PRAISE AND CRITICISM

Thomas lauded Womack during Friday's news conference.

"Over the past year, Chief Womack has had to oversee numerous workplace misconduct investigations and criticisms of some departmental operations that in many cases predated her tenure," he said. "During that time she has professionally handled the criticisms and consistently implemented improvements for the betterment of the department."

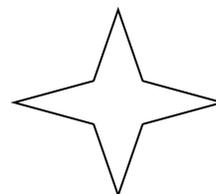

Thomas spoke about her accomplishments at the department, including the development of a squad that deploys additional officers during certain hours; the complete rewrite of the department's general-order manual; overseeing an arrest of 47 people charged with the illegal purchase of firearms and drugs; and the attainment of re-accreditation by the Commission on Law Enforcement Accreditation and the Commission on Florida Accreditation, which had been lost under the previous chief.

The following officers were sworn in:

Seth Balser
Kristopher Conner
Bradley Dollison
Mike Fuller
Valerie Grey
Misty Nappier
Ronald "Ronnie" Powell
Laura Robertson
Jonathan Stephens
Keri Suggs
